DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor, at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Specifically, the wheel structure (30) includes a hydraulic actuator; therefore it is powered. The recitation of "non-powered" contradicts this configuration.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-7, 9-19 and 21-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Williams et al. (U.S. Patent 1,473,369) in view of Feliz (U.S. Patent 4,253,256).

Williams et al. discloses an apparatus including a body, motive structure and wheeled structure (51) carried by the body and arranged to be movable between operative and inoperative positions. While the wheeled structure (51) is powered, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have used a non-powered structure in order to suit a particular application. Note that making a powered apparatus a non-powered apparatus does not patentably distinguish the apparatus. Williams does not disclose the hopper. Feliz discloses an apparatus including a body carrying an engine (Figure 1, for example). There is a motive structure (3), a hopper (300), dispensing structure (conveyors, Figure 1, for example), a wheel structure (Figure 4) and a hitch structure (316). The motive structure operates in the manner claimed. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have combined the structure of Williams et al. with the apparatus of Feliz in order to obtain an easily maneuverable dispensing apparatus.

A dump truck could be used and there are rollers (Figure 1a, for example) which could engage tires.

Claims 8 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Williams et al. and Feliz as applied above, and further in view of Vangaever (U.S. Patent 4,895,476).

Williams et al. does not teach the powered broom structure; however, it is well known to use powered brooms in order to more effectively control material (street sweepers, for example), as exemplified by Vangaever. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have used a powered broom with Williams et al./Feliz for this purpose.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed December 14, 2004 have been considered and are moot in view of the new grounds of rejection. Regarding the hitch structure, towing brackets (283) meet claim recitations. Regarding claims 9 and 21, there simply is insufficient structure to distinguish from Feliz.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
